THIS IS NOT THE TIME.

The action of the town council in protesting against the proposed raise in the gas rates here will be strongly endorsed by every ratepayer and householder in town. As was pointed out by one of the councillors at the meeting, this is no time for any such move on the part of the company. At the present time none of our industries are running at full capacity and, as a result, many of our housewives are out of employment. In fact we are mourning at the loss of many many homes are in want and are receiving assistance from our sources. Again the present is not a time when we should be in the reconstruction period when the readjustment from war time to peace time conditions are gradually being worked out. Throughout this period there is no end and will be a gradual reduction in the price of almost all commodities, and already there is a downward tendency in wage scales.

All things being considered we agree that this is no time to increase the price of our natural gas, to say nothing of the fact that the company is exceeding its powers when it proposes to raise the rate to 30c per 1,000 cubic feet at any time during the year.

PLACING THE BLAME.

According to a news report carried from London the other day some anonymous speaker issued a word of warning to American and English newspapers. The speaker referred to the necessity of harmony among the English speaking races in the solving of the many problems which the whole world is now facing. While all will admit the truth and soundness of this remark, yet from this distance it looks as though the speaker was over optimistic when he further intimated that the Anglo-American races "are treading the path leading to war."

It cannot be denied that from time to time—especially during the past few years—issues of a controversial nature have arisen between the two great English speaking countries, but on no occasion has anything of a serious nature developed. The leaders in control of affairs have always been able to arrive at an amicable settlement. All will agree with the speaker mentioned in the cable when he blamed much of the friction existing between different factions of both countries on the party press and politicians. This is not only true in international matters; it is also true in national affairs. Ninety per cent. of the creed, sectional, class and religious friction right here in our own country is started and fanned on by party papers and politicians who are more interested in their own personal aggrandizement and power than they are in the harmony and welfare of their community or country.

WOODLOTS ON FRANKIE FARMS.

In Forestry Branch Bulletin No. 1, "Tree-planting on the Prairie" which may be had free upon application, Norman H. Lucas, chief of the Dominion Forest Nursery Station, Indian Head, writes: "There is no danger of territory where the scarcity of fuel and small timber is felt so keenly as on the prairie. If properly managed, two or three acres of land planted with the proper species and in proper mixture will furnish a portion of the fuel used on the farm and will supply a quantity of posts and small poles. The area to be used as a woodlot should be included in the initial plan, and at least a second in advance, a portion of this area should be prepared to accommodate the planting material available."

"Cooty Incubators" is the latest name given to those bunches of hair with which girls upbraid their ears these days. Thank goodness they are going out of style.

What do you know about this? A news report from Ontario says: "A plumber has been arrested for speeding." This is an other evidence of the great change which is coming over the world.

Huge Comet to Strike The Earth

The greatest display of fireballs that the world has yet seen, including a huge comet, is due to occur on June 26, if the prediction is allowed to have its own way.

The comet is described as a "comet with a slightly wavy and responsible habit, travelling 700 miles in excess of the speed limit and heading straight for the earth."

Unless he comes, and get provided with a rival attraction, or the earth can be induced to sever at the psychological moment, the fire will continue on June 26. These facts are given by Dr. Crenshaw, known as the most famous astronomical mathematician in the world.

The world will not be wiped out, but there will be the biggest shower of meteors ever seen, and possibly some damage and casualties. After that date, however, the comet will recede.

Vote For Forming Irrigation District

In the polling last Monday at the Chamber of Commerce office, Medicine Hat, all the votes were in favor of the formation of the Medicine Hat Southern Irrigation District. About 75 per cent. of the possible votes were polled.

Messrs. Henry L. Cavan, Charles H. Harvey and J. B. Brown were the only nominees for trustees of this district and are therefore elected by acclamation.

NEED AIRPLANES TO CATCH BOOTLEGGERS.

Donald A. McDonald, federal prohibition enforcement officer for Washington, said that additional enforcement officers with a fleet of airplanes and sea craft will be necessary before bootlegging across the Canadian border.

May Re-Classify

Alberta farm lands

Something in the way of an investigation into the character of the land in Southern Alberta, and a re-classification of farm lands with a view, possibly, to removing sections from the district's inalienable for operation, will likely be undertaken by the provincial government.

LIGHT DRAYING

All orders, bonded to the Atlas Lumber yard, Phone No. 11, or to C. P. K. station, No. 3, will be promptly attended to.

government. A vote for such a proposition will probably be passed in the legislature. This action was initiated by the government in reply to a delegation from the United Farmers that held a conference with the executive council.

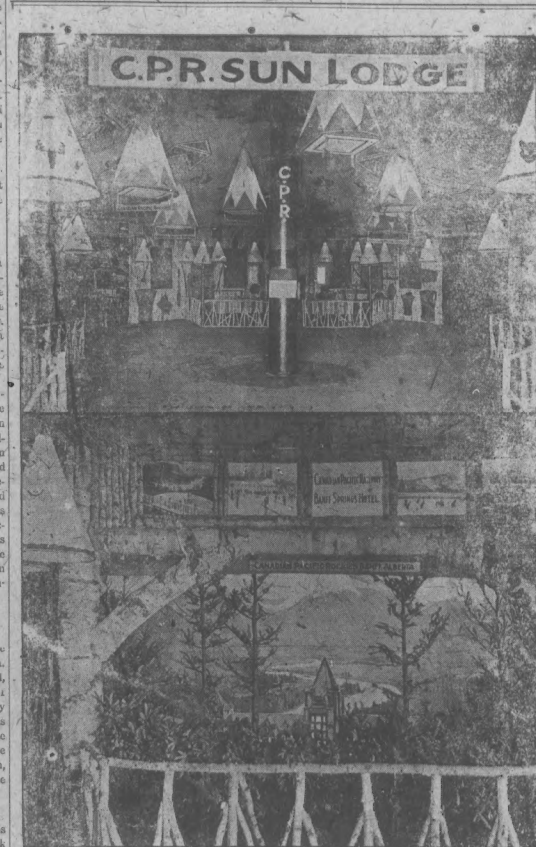

What the U. F. A. asked for was a joint commission with the Dominion

Minister, but the feeling of the government was that the matter could be handled more satisfactorily alone, with pressure than to be brought upon the federal government, as had been done in Saskatchewan. In the meantime, it was stated arrangements were pending for survey of the soils in the forest parts of the province, under both federal and provincial auspices.

More Permanent Walls &amp; Ceilings of BEAVER BOARD

You can save walls and ceilings that are just as good as new, and you can save money by using Beaver Board. It is made of pure pine, and is the best material for walls and ceilings. It is easy to install, and it is the only material that will stand up to the test of time.

ATLAS LUMBER COMPANY REDCLIFF

Toronto can always count on the C.P.R. to provide a unique and attractive exhibit for the Toronto Fair, and this year it certainly has. The C.P.R. exhibit has surpassed all previous records for originality and artistic execution. In order to illustrate the romance as well as the majestic scenery of the Canadian Pacific, the Sun Dance Lodge has been reconstructed and decorated with Indian relics and sporting trophies—fine heads and priceless skins. The exhibit is under the direction of Mr. Norman Linton, editor of the "Crest and Canyon" of the C.P.R. The huge swimming tank, the stretch of the Bow River in the background is highly realistic. A fine model of the C.P.R.'s famous hospitality built specially for this occasion is shown electrically illuminated and gives the visitor the impression that he is paying a visit to himself instead of swimming under the atmosphere of an "edification." The head Hot Springs, famous for their health giving qualities, were known to the Red men long years ago and accidentally discovered by some engineers when surveying for the C.P.R. The huge swimming tank, hidden from the view, but situated directly in front of the lodge, has a depth of water of from three to eight feet and is one of the great summer attractions. The Bow River flows in the heart of the picture, and the scene cannot be captured for grandeur, although Lake Louise is shown on the other side of the camp site. On each side of the entrance, office accommodation has been worked into the setting where information of every description can be obtained and telephone service is also installed. This has the purpose of being used. The lighting effect of these interiors with miniature Indian, appears as shadows produces an effect of entrancing beauty.

A WINTER DAY IN VANCOUVER

(1) Hotel Vancouver, Vancouver, B.C.

(2) The Siwash Rock, near Vancouver.

(3) Pointe Canyons.

The balmy air and glorious beauty of a winter day in Vancouver, invite us to this Paradise of the Pacific where the grass grows green as a June pasture and on the evergreen coast a narrow strip of grey and brown divide the evergreen land from the evergreen sea. Golden blue, murre and green is the vista of sky, sea, mountain and forest while English haw stretches blue laughing and twinkling. The sandy beaches of Killalno and Point Grey receive the morning sun as it rolls up the gentle slopes of the shore. The canyons are shaded with purple and all at times are shrouded in great veils of cloud and mist. There is even the mystery, the massiveness and the infinite variety of tone and color, with always a touch of evergreen in the air. In the almost bursting, sun-baked, who the hills break into song, in the tree brackets filled with swelling leaf-buds. All give the impression of having been dredged with the sweetness and fragrance of nature in her most riotous spring mood. Well kept roads and endless paths intersect in every form, the sea comes into view and over it the watery pathway to Victoria and Vancouver Island. Of every side the city is bounded by a variety of natural beauties which can be enjoyed by one-day boat-trips such as a run up Burrard Inlet to Port Moody, often in the early days of rainy construction, to be the western terminal. The quiet little settlement of shacks had signs of greatness and wealth until the late, choice of Vancouver for the meeting of "rail and sail." The North Arm is a fjord that gives the visiting Norwagian a longing for home blue mist-topped mountains coming down to green, blue and blue waters with "Wigwan Inn" and its sylvan setting at the end. The industrial and commercial advantages of the Pacific coast, make an important element in the building of a great manufacturing province. Navigation by water is never closed by low tides are seldom blocked by snow, water-powers are eager from or dried up, street railways can run their cars, without an elaborate heating system.—C. G.
